

Loex of the West

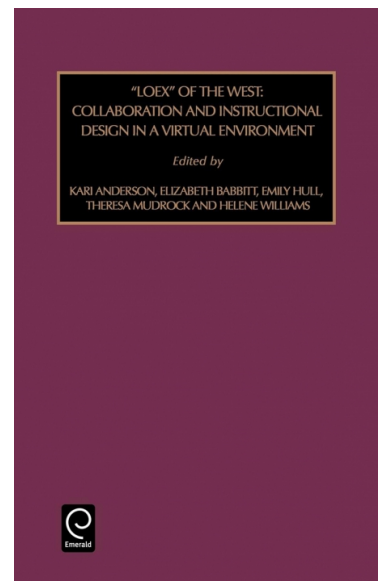

Collaboration and Instructional Design in a Virtual Environment

Foundations in Library and Information Sciences

Thomas W. Leonhardt
Kari Anderson
Elizabeth Babbitt

About the Book

"Foundations in Library and Information Science" continues to be a series on the cutting edge of research with volumes of relevance both to the informed librarian and to the interested laymen. Volumes have reflected the depth and diversity of topics in library and information science covering collection development and management, library administration and organization, library automation and technology, serials management, library information systems and electronic media.

Format: Hardback

Pagination: 308

Price:

£102.99 $184.99 €145.99

Publication Date: 1st Mar 1999

ISBN: 9780762305490

Enjoy 30% off this ebook with code EME30 on ebooks.com or off the print book when placing an order via booksales@emerald.com and quoting the code EME30.